The Legal Aid Camp was organized on 22nd July, 2023 (Saturday) in Hatod District of Indore, Madhya Pradesh.

The camp was organized at the Office of Chief Municipal Officer, Nagar Parishad, Hatod from 10 a.m. IST. A wide range of legal issues was addressed through informative sessions and one-on-one consultations with legal experts during the Legal Aid Camp.

The free Legal Aid Booth catered to the legal issues of more than fifty locals. The residents, children, and officials who visited the camp and attended the sessions gained a comprehensive understanding of their legal rights and remedies, which empowered them to safeguard their interests and seek justice. This was assured by displaying some documentaries about the fundamental rights, sexual harassment at work place, and girl education.

ADDRESSES TO THE AUDIENCE

The Legal Aid Camp commenced with engaging interactive sessions aimed at fostering meaningful interactions with the audience. Preceding the official commencement of the event and the esteemed chief guests' arrival, informative documentaries were screened to set the tone. Upon their arrival, the dignitaries were accorded the highest respect, and together, they symbolically illuminated the sacred lamp, signifying the start of a new endeavour and later on, all the dignitaries were given a memento as a token of gratitude.

The Moderator provided a concise overview of the event, highlighting its significance and objectives. Subsequently, the dignitaries were invited to the podium to address the august assembly, sharing their insights and valuable perspectives with the attendees.

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS BY DR. ASHUTOSH HAJELA (ASSOCIATE DEAN, SCHOOL OF LAW, NMIMS-INDORE)

Sir warmly welcomed esteemed guests, participants, and attendees to the significant Legal Aid Camp event. He expressed pride in the institution's commitment to social responsibility through the diligent efforts of the Legal Aid & CSR Committee, "Samatva."

In his remarks, he emphasized the crucial roles of the justice system and government in ensuring access to justice for all. He also highlighted the event's focus on child education in relation to legal aid, empowering young citizens to contribute to a just society.

The Associate Dean commended the students' dedication in organizing the event, bridging the gap between legal aid services and the needy. He encouraged active participation, foreseeing a positive impact on the lives of those seeking justice and support.

He concluded by expressing gratitude to all attendees, believing that the day's insights would contribute significantly to advancing justice and societal harmony. With a sense of purpose, the Legal Aid Camp commenced, promising meaningful dialogue and efforts towards a more equitable future.

REMARKS BY MR. SATYANARAN MANDLOI (PRINCIPAL, GOVERNMENT SCHOOL, HATOD)

During his address at the Legal Aid Camp, Mr. Mandloi, the Principal of Government School, Hatod, continued the sentiments expressed by Dr. Ashutosh Hajela and further, emphasized the critical roles of the justice system and government in ensuring equal access to justice for all members of society. He echoed the importance of child education concerning legal aid, recognizing the potential of informed young citizens in shaping a fair and inclusive community.

He wholeheartedly acknowledged the commendable efforts put forth by the students in organizing the event. Their dedication and passion in bridging the gap between legal aid services and those in need were praiseworthy. He believed that such initiatives not only fostered a sense of empathy and social responsibility among the students but also empowered the underprivileged to seek rightful recourse.

He also expressed his firm conviction that the Legal Aid Camp would bring about tangible benefits for those seeking justice and support. He encouraged all participants to actively engage in the event's activities, sharing knowledge and experiences, ultimately contributing to a society where justice prevails for everyone, irrespective of their background or circumstances. With a unified effort and a collective vision, the Legal Aid Camp took flight, promising a day of meaningful interactions and progress towards a more just and equitable society.

REMARKS BY ADV. ISHWAR CHANDRA SOLANKI (PANEL LAWYER)

In his address at the Legal Aid Camp, Adv. Solanki, a renowned panel lawyer, reiterated the crucial points raised by Dr. Ashutosh Hajela. He emphatically stressed the pressing need for a robust legal justice system that upholds the principles of fairness and equality. He cited relevant statistics, highlighting the staggering number of individuals who face barriers in accessing justice due to financial constraints or lack of awareness about their rights.

He passionately emphasized the significance of such legal aid camps in addressing these disparities and acknowledged the invaluable role they play in providing free legal assistance to marginalized and underprivileged communities, thereby empowering them to seek justice and safeguard their rights. He also commended the students for their unwavering efforts in organizing this event, recognizing their dedication to promoting social justice and legal awareness.

He expressed his gratitude to all involved in making the Legal Aid Camp a reality, as it offered a unique opportunity for individuals in need to receive professional legal guidance and support. In addition to this, he reaffirmed his commitment to the cause and urged everyone present to actively participate in the camp's activities, as collective engagement would pave the way for a more just and equitable society for all.

SPEECHES AND POEMS BY THE STUDENTS

In a poignant and compelling address at the Legal Aid Camp, Aalekh Lahari, Shivansh Nayak, and Madhav Dwivedi (students of NMIMS-Indore) took the stage to shed light on critical social issues affecting vulnerable communities.

Aalekh eloquently recited a thought-provoking poem from the perspective of an innocent child, seeking his rights and questioning the injustices perpetrated against him. The emotive performance served as a powerful reminder of the importance of safeguarding the rights and well-being of our younger generation. Shivansh, in his impassioned speech, addressed the harrowing issue of Child Trafficking, a social evil that plagues our society. He shed light on the alarming statistics and shared compelling real-life stories of children victimized by this heinous crime. His speech called for collective action to combat this grave injustice and protect the most vulnerable members of our community.

Following the address of Shivansh, Madhav stepped forward to discuss the deeply concerning issue of Domestic Violence. He delved into the legal remedies available to victims and stressed the importance of empowering survivors to seek help within the confines of the law.

These comprehensive insights provided a glimmer of hope, showcasing the legal avenues that victims can explore to break free from the cycle of abuse and secure their safety and dignity. Their passionate and well-informed addresses left a profound impact on the audience, encouraging a collective commitment to address these pressing social issues and ensure a society where every individual's rights and well-being are protected. Their unwavering dedication to raising awareness and advocating for the vulnerable underscored the true spirit of the Legal Aid Camp and its transformative potential in promoting social justice. This got bolstered when two children of Hatod step ahead and voiced their opinions.

ADDRESS BY MR. AMANDEEP SINGH (PROFESSOR, SCHOOL OF LAW, NMIMS-INDORE)

Amandeep Singh, a distinguished professor from NMIMS-Indore, emphasized the significance of legal education and the myriad opportunities it presents to aspiring law enthusiasts. He shared invaluable insights on the various pathways to pursue a career in law, guiding the audience on the diverse law courses available and the esteemed colleges offering them.

He underscored the transformative role of legal education in empowering individuals to champion justice and uphold the rule of law. He highlighted the diverse fields of specialization within the legal domain, showcasing the breadth of opportunities for students to contribute meaningfully to society.

Through his enlightening address, he inspired the audience to consider the pursuit of legal education as a powerful means of effecting positive change. His comprehensive overview of the different law courses and colleges ignited a sense of purpose among attendees, encouraging them to explore the rewarding journey of legal studies and its potential to create a more just and equitable world.

FREE LEGAL AID BOOTH

The Free Legal Aid Camp served as a crucial platform to address multifaceted legal issues pertaining to the governmental schemes, violence against women and children, unrestricted web access and associated crimes, the significance of legally authorized documents, and the imperative to advocate for individuals facing challenges. Through insightful discussions and legal consultations, attendees gained a deeper understanding of their rights and the legal mechanisms available to address societal concerns. The camp's focus on creating awareness and promoting a proactive approach towards legal matters fostered a more informed and empowered community, dedicated to upholding justice and safeguarding the rights of all individuals.

SURVEY & NUKKAD NATAK!!!

The Free Legal Aid Camp saw significant contributions in the form of a thought-provoking Nukkad Natak centered on "Domestic Violence against women," shedding light on the harrowing consequences of dowry deaths. Additionally, awareness programs were conducted to educate the attendees (which included the residents of Htaod, children and the officials) about various governmental schemes, including Jan Aarogya Yojana, and more. To assess the schemes' implementation, a comprehensive door-to-door survey was carried out, aimed at gathering insights into their practical application and impact on the ground.
